Maidenhair
(for david in london)

by cabin august 2004
morning storm, otters in pond ("don't be afraid to ask for help") moon sets in aereal pale blue across the lake quarter past 10, luminous white, the rest faint orange low and big above trees and close it’s magenta, supernatural as it drops by the time it’s gone sky is a navy blanket of stars in front of me as I grill flying squirrels, small with dark bulging eyes, glide serenely to and from trees around bird feeder they land on silent feet, chase each other up and down like children in imposibility fast race cars this is the first year I’ve seen them they come out only when

21. august 2004

it gets dark

Used with permission from the author (Copyright 2008 David Coggins) Plants Belonging to the Liliaceae Family:

1. Onion
2. Leek
3. Garlic
4. Asparagus
5. Lily of the Valley
6. Iris
7. Tulip
8. Fritillary
9. Hyacinth
10. Lilies (anemone)

Plants of the Trillium Family:

1. Mustard
2. Shepherd's purse
3. Garlic (cork root)
4. Stalk
5. Funnel
6. Eggs
7. Candy tuft
8. Cabbage
9. Brussels sprouts
10. Cauliflower
11. Radish

Hill below studio

Friday, 28 May 2004